MSD: Public Information, Advisory Groups, and Cooperative Services

The Board recognizes its obligation to the people of Millard School District. Because the Board derives its power from the people, the Board is responsible for keeping the public informed of Board actions and changes in District policy and procedure.

Communication media, including the press, radio, and television, may be invited to report action taken by the Board. The District may cooperate with recognized communication agencies to help keep the public informed about District business and public education matters.

When a decision can best be made with additional information or with broader public involvement, the Board may organize advisory groups to study the facts and present recommendations to the Board. Such advisory groups are advisory only and are dissolved when their recommendations have been received, unless the Board directs otherwise.

At the Board's discretion, the District may cooperate with other organizations, agencies, or groups to bring services to students in Millard School District, provided the cooperative effort benefits students and remains within the limits of District policy and law.
